

Tik Tok Clock

One day there was a lady her name was Rabeker. One day Rabeker went to a shop, a shop where you get clocks but the one that Rabeker chose was a talking grandfather clock and his name was Tik Tok Clock. When Rabeker bought him he was very annoying. He went tik tok every second even when she was in bed. One day she found out that Tik Tok Clock was only a little baby. "I've got it I have to pore milk in him to tell the time." The next day Rabeker's Grandchildren came and Rabeker told them to pore milk in him but Samyall who is part of her twelve grandchildren told the others not to pore the milk. So Rabeker had to do it herself. The day after her grandchildren were still at Rabeker's house and it was her second attempt to try and get the children to pore milk into Tik Tok Clock. That time Tom did as he was told and pored the milk in. Tom is the oldest one but he pored it in the wrong place. He was supposed to put it in the front but he pored it in the back. So Tik Tok Clock was poorly. So Tom said "sorry for putting the milk in the wrong place. I will never do it again." "OK I will not tell you off." Said Rabeker. The next day nothing went wrong until lunchtime when a clock nurse came and told Rabeker the clock needed ink to grow him into a clock. Rabeker had to buy 5 lots of ink so he could grow! Tik Tok Clock was very greedy so he ate the pots too and he got even poorer. Rabeker had to buy 5 lots of pots again, but Tik Tok Clock wasn't greedy this time so Rabeker pored the ink in and he grew to a toddler. Rabeker and her grandchildren wondered how long it would take Tik Tok Clock to be an adult and what else he would need.
